

Using the most effective online advertising medium to market your product or services.

Each month, over 20 billion online video ads are watched by roughly two thirds of the world's population. Pre-roll advertising (those :15 second ads that appear before video content on YouTube, ESPN, CNN, etc..) are the single fastest growing advertising medium in the world. So, why not use them to market your products/services? With AdDash, you can.

The AdDash service uses proprietary cookie-based targeting techniques to ensure that your ads are placed directly in front of ONLY the right customer demographic, thus avoiding the "waste" associated with traditional advertising methods. AdDash packages include free, customized video production with professional onscreen talent.

AdDash will allow you to more effectively market your brand via a method that, until now, only the world's elite consumer advertising agencies could utilize.
